

And We're Off!

Illustrious Frank Mason Crosses the Starting Line

When talking of his plans for the year, he had just one thing to say about it: “growing up on Cape Cod I have learned a lot about boating; if you all row in different directions, you go in circles. This year I would like to see everyone rowing in the same direction and remind each other why we became Shriners – to help kids at the Shriners Hospitals for Children.” Frank wanted to give back to the Shriners when he joined years ago for the help that they received for his son Francis J. Mason, IV, from age two to eighteen with clubbed feet.

Seeing the countless people volunteer for hundreds of hours and donate much more to benefit children they have never even met is a wonderful sight for Frank and he looks forward to working alongside them for a long time to come.
